RIDGE — inspired by terrain.

The idea:

A ridge is where two worlds meet — earth and sky, ascent and descent, wilderness and direction.

The vertical leather channels on this backpack give it the visual language of mountain ridges. The structure is deliberate, but the object still feels organic.

Brand story

RIDGE was born from the lines of the landscape.

The ridges of a mountain never run perfectly straight. They rise, fall and adapt to the terrain.

We translated that movement into leather — creating a backpack where every line has purpose, giving structure to something designed for movement.

Built for the climb. Designed for the everyday.

Short campaign line

RIDGE — Carry your own direction.

This one feels particularly appropriate as the hero backpack of the launch.

TRAVERSE—inspired by movement.

Brand story

TRAVERSE is not about where you are going.
It's about everything you cross to get there.
Forests. Cities. Office. Airports. Roads. Unknown places.
Inspired by trails carved through wild landscapes,
TRAVERSE carries the spirit of movement in a form designed for modern travel.
The journey leaves the line.
You follow it.

Campaign line

TRAVERSE — Take the long way.

Or,

TRAVERSE — Made for the distance between here and there.

STRATA — inspired by layers

Brand story

STRATA is inspired by layers.

Layers of earth.

Layers of architecture.

Layers of work, ambition and experience.

Its disciplined vertical lines echo geological formations — while its clean silhouette belongs firmly in the modern city.

Because a life well built is made in layers.

Campaign line

STRATA — Built in layers.

This could be a beautiful corporate/lifestyle product.

And there's a deeper brand thought here:

Nature creates layers. Architecture creates layers. We create our lives in layers.

That is very Linear Wilderness.

CREST — inspired by elevation.

Brand story

Every wild landscape has a high point.

A mountain peak.

A wave breaking.

A bird in flight.

CREST takes inspiration from that moment of elevation — where form gathers energy before moving forward. Its curved silhouette meets disciplined lines to create a backpack that feels equally at home in the wild and in the city.

Campaign line

CREST — Rise above ordinary.

Or

CREST — Find your high point.

AXIS — inspired by direction.

Brand story

In nature, everything has a line of movement.
A predator follows its path.
A river finds its course.
A branch reaches for light.

AXIS is built around one simple idea — everything begins with a line.
Compact. Focused. Purposeful.
Carry only what matters.

Campaign line

AXIS — Nothing unnecessary.

It gives the sling a slightly masculine, intelligent, almost industrial personality.

CONTOUR — inspired by form.

Brand story

Nature rarely follows a perfect line.
It follows contours.
The curve of a mountain.
The edge of a river.
The shape of a living form.

CONTOUR follows the same principle — clean lines shaped around what it protects.
Minimal on the outside.
Considered on the inside.

Campaign line

CONTOUR — Protection, shaped beautifully.
